

HEALTHCARE TECHNOLOGIES

Degree Offered: Master of Science in partnership with Marquette University

The Healthcare Technologies Management program is a collaborative effort between Marquette University and the University of Wisconsin that combines management, technology, and health care. The objective of the program is to educate professionals capable of managing the development, commercialization and regulatory compliance of diagnostic and therapeutic medical devices, and the implementation, utilization, and assessment of computer-based healthcare technologies.

Learn more here.

The Healthcare Technologies Management program is not currently accepting new students.

Contact us at: gradschool@mcw.edu | (414) 955-8218